

MORSE

Has Not Let Any One
Know of His Whereabouts

SOME SAY HE IS HOME

While Others Insist That
He Has Gone Abroad
for a Rest

Friends Claim That He Has Assets
Enough to Clear Up All Claims Against Him.

New York, Feb. 7.—Summoned back
from the ocean to face the numerous
financial claimants against him, Chas.
W. Morse is not altogether likely to come, Wall street seems inclined to think today.

Those who look to see the former
"Ice King" return, argue that he would hardly have waited as long as he did, had he contemplated permanent exile. The many enterprises in which he was interested crumbled so suddenly, it is conceded, that he could not have escaped heavy losses
in any case. By "cleaning up"
promptly, however, it is pointed out
that he might have left the country
with a good many millions still in his possession. He didn't do it. He waited until, financiers say, his fortune must have dwindled to almost nothing—compared at least with the $20,000,000 at which he was rated
before the recent money crisis. Few estimates place the remnant at more than $1,000,000. A good many fix it at considerably less.

For that matter, a few of Morse's
close friends say he has not left the country at all—that he wants rest
and is simply keeping out of sight
for a few days, while he gets it.

As against the reports that Morse's
resources are practically wiped out, a number of well informed Wall street
traders call attention to the fact that even if the crash of his various business enterprises began, the financier's
continued speculation on an extensive scale and made big killings in almost all his ventures. Without pretending to estimate accurately the amount gained in this manner, they think his winnings amounted to an immense sum.

WIFE SAYS HE'S GONE.

New York, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Morse,
wife of Chas. W. Morse, today confirmed the report that Morse is a passenger on the steamer Campanian.
She said, "I am a poor sailor or I would have gone with him. He will be back on the Campanian's return trip. He took the voyage to rest up."

BIG WELL COMES IN

Lock, O., Feb. 7.—Gas well No. 1
on the Charles Larimore place, one and a half mile south of Lock, came in about noon Friday. The sand had only been penetrated a few feet when the well showed a capacity of over 4,000,000 feet of gas, and the flow increasing every minute. From present indications it is thought that it will be one of the biggest wells in the Knox-Licking district. The well was drilled in by the Ohio Central.

TRAINED NURSES GO ON A STRIKE AT CLEVELAND

Cleveland, O., Feb. 7.—Eighteen of the 24 regular nurses employed in taking care of the patients at Huron Road Hospital, one of the largest institutions of the kind in the city, are
on strike today as the result of the dismissal of Miss Dunham, who is principal of the Huron Road Hospital training school. The nurses say Miss Dunham was discharged because she fought for better conditions for the nurses there are nearly 100 patients
in the hospital and the management
is seriously handicapped as practically every trained nurse in the city
is under engagement.

ASSASSINATION OF CARLOS MAY COST CZARINA'S LIFE OR REASON

St. Petersburg, Feb. 7.—It is believed that the assassination of King
Carlos and Crown Prince Luis of Portugal may cost the Czarina her life or reason. She has been ill for some time and her constant worry
lest terrorists kill her husband or

children, has been greatly aggravated
by the Lisbon tragedy. Physicians desire her to leave Russia for treatment, but she refuses unless her husband will accompany her. For reasons of state this is deemed impossible at present.

KING SENDS THANKS TO THE PRESIDENT

Washington, Feb. 7.—Cable messages to President Roosevelt from Lisbon, were received at the White House as follows:

"Theodore Roosevelt, President of the Republic, Washington
"I and the Queen, my afflicted
mother, are deeply grateful for your kind message of condolence in our great suffering, and we wish to express our thanks to you and to the American people in our anguish.

"MANUEL R.
"Theodore Roosevelt, President of the Republic, Washington:
"I am deeply grateful for your very sympathetic message in our great affliction, and I heartily thank you and the American people.

TWENTY ARE KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 7.—Advices
from Port Hood, N. S., today state that as the result of an explosion in coal mines there today, nearly a score
of persons were killed. Seven bodies have already been taken out. Ten other miners are reported imprisoned
and believed to be dead.

STILETTO

Buried to Its Hilt in Dead Man's Body
While His Opponent in the Duel
Will Die.

Dubois Pa., Feb. 7.—Frank Farro
is dead and Jose Brucresco is mortally wounded as the result of a duel
fought here last night in their room
in the Italian colony. When other boarders broke in to the room Farro
was dead on the floor with a stiletto
buried up to the hilt in his body.
While Brucresco, unconscious, had been literally hacked to pieces with a razor. The men quarreled yesterday afternoon and locked themselves in the room to settle their differences.

JAP STEAMER SEIZED IN CHINA

Tokio, Feb. 7.—Complaint has been received here from the owners of the Japanese steamer seized by the Chinese customs authorities near Macao on the ground that it was bringing arms and ammunition to the revolutionary leader, Dr. Sun Yet Sen.
Japan will not act until it has investigated the Chinese accusation that
the craft was landing contraband on Chinese soil.

MILLIONAIRE DEAD

Detroit, Feb. 7.—Samuel F. Angus, organizer of the Toledo, Norwalk and Fremont Trolley line, once owner of the Detroit ball team and at death
the millionaire owner of the Michigan
Electric railway, is dead.

The Rt. Rev. Henry Yates Satterler,
Bishop of Washington, D. C. is opposed to prohibition.

$35,000 DAMAGES FOR A CRUSHED SKULL

Chicago, Feb. 7.—If $35,000 will compensate Robert H. Lanyon for being struck on the head by a 600-
pound beam, he can have it, according to the decision of a jury in Judge McEwen's court.

Lanyon suffered his injury September 10, 1906, while walking in Adams
street by the Commercial National Bank Building, then being constructed.
The beam fell from the eighth story
of the structure, and crushed his skull.
He sued the contractors, the Lanquist & Illsley Co. and James H. Stevens.
The verdict is one of the largest ever given in a personal injury case in Cook county.

The plaintiff is a lumber dealer,
and lives at 4904 Ellis avenue.

TEN HURT IN A WRECK.

Olean, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Ten passengers were injured, one internally, as a result of the second section of the north bound flyer on the Pennsylvania road being wrecked near Franklinville, north of here, today. All the cars were thrown off the track.
After the injured were attended to
they continued their journey.

QUIET

REIGNS IN LISBON ON THE EVE
OF THE FUNERAL OF ROYAL VICTIMS.

Liberation of Political Prisoners Continues, and Few Will be Brought to Trial.

London, Feb. 7.—The liberation of political prisoners continues in Lisbon today, according to news dispatches from the Portuguese capital.
The captives against whom formal charges have been preferred will be brought to trial—though acquittals are certain in practically all cases—before they are freed, but a large number were held merely on suspicion.
These are being dismissed without
even a pretense at legal formality.

Lisbon continues quiet from all accounts. Police and military vigilance
has not been relaxed but no further trouble is feared. Immense numbers are visiting the chapel where the bodies of the late King Carlos and Crown Prince Luiz lie in state.

Former Premier Franco's departure
from Portugal is said to have been practically forced by the new cabinet.
Public men still think, however, that it is only a question of time when he will return and again take a prominent part in his country's politics.

TORPEDO FLOTILLA WILL ACCOMPANY THE BATTLESHIPS

Punta Arenas, Feb. 7.—Admiral Br-
aws' fleet will sail for the Pacific between 11 o'clock and midnight. The battleship squadron and torpedo boat flotilla, will keep company as far as Cape Pilear, at the west end of the Magellan Straits. The battleships will then take the open sea,
while the flotilla will keep inside the
channels up the Pacific coast.

KNOCK-DOWN AND DRAG-OUT WERE TACTICS

THAT PREVAILED IN THE RE-PUBLICAN STATE CONVEN-TION IN FLORIDA.

TWO SETS OF DELEGATES

Chosen, One Being Instructed for Taft, While the Other Will go Uninstructed.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 7.—Florida Republicans stand conspicuously
in the limelight today as being the first of the Southern states to hold their convention to select delegates
to the national convention, and it is said here that the strenuous and exciting scenes enacted yesterday are a forecast of similar scenes in other Southern states, caused by the efforts
being made by the anti-Roosevelt Republicans for control in the national convention.

The convention yesterday was one
of the most remarkable in some respects ever held by any political party. It was really two conventions
held at the same time in the same hall. The progress of business was frequently interrupted by knock-
down and drag-out fights.

The office holder faction was called to order by the chairman of the state
committee and they proclaimed themselves as the regular party, but they did not succeed in carrying out the prearranged program. The Taft sentiment was too strong for the leaders
to hold in check, and resolutions
were adopted endorsing William H.
Taft for president.

On the other side of the hall the contesting convention took conservative action and chose delegates untrammelled by instructions, positive
assurance being given to Joseph N.
Stripling, who led the movement,
that despite the fact that they were
branded as bolters by the other convention the delegates they named
would be seated in the national convention.

The office holders' convention
adopted resolutions approving "The policies of the Roosevelt administration and the conservative manner in which he has carried them out," and instructed the delegates elected to the national convention to support

the President's policies and the candidate who is in sympathy with and who will carry out these policies, and
then proceeded to name William H.
Taft as such a candidate.

The anti-Taft convention adopted
resolutions condemning in strong
terms the attempts to influence and control by use of Federal patronage
through governmental office holders,
the selection of delegates to the National convention in the interest of any presidential candidate.

The city marshal and a dozen policemen were on duty in the hall and
were frequently called upon to eject unruly delegates. Nine-tenths of both conventions were negroes.

DELIBERATE PLOT TO GET THE SOUTH AWAY FROM TAFT

Washington, Feb. 7.—Politicians
here see in the selection of a double
set of delegates from Florida yesterday to the Republican National convention, a deliberate plan among the anti-Taft leaders to send rival delegations from all the southern states
to the National convention, with the hope of beating Taft. If contesting delegations were sent from all the southern states there would be a tie
of 216 votes until after the credential committee's report was accepted.

The plan outlined is to have the votes of states which have favorite
sons, and where there will be no contents, cast for the seating of the anti-Taft southern delegates. With the anti-Taft men seated from all the contesting states it is generally believed the enemies of the administration will be able to beat Taft. What plans Taft's advisers have laid to defeat this combination, have not yet been revealed.

THREE MEN KILLED BY LIGHT ENGINE

Kittanning, Pa., Feb. 7.—Three men
were run down and instantly killed
here today by a Buffalo and Allegheny railroad engine. The dead
Samuel Salliday, John H. Miller and August Hettler. They stepped out of the way of an approaching freight train to another track only to be struck by a light engine.

THAW'S RELEASE FROM ASYLUM IN THIRTY DAYS

MAY BE SECURED WITHOUT RE-COURSE TO ANY FOR-MAL WRIT.

IS A MODEL PRISONER

According to Asylum Authorities
Who Have Power to Recommend
His Discharge.

Matteawan, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Dr.
Lamb, superintendent of the state
hospital for the Criminal Insane, said
yesterday that if after 30 days or so it is in his belief that Harry K. Thaw
is sane, it will be within the province
of the hospital authorities to so certify to the court and recommend his release. A commission in lunacy or other proceedings would not be necessary, he declared.

The physicians at the institution
are not making observations of Thaw
as yet, as they feel that he has not recovered from the excitement caused
by his recent trial for the murder of Stanford White. He is considered a model prisoner by the physicians, and
on account of his good behavior has been allowed certain special privileges.

Dr. Britton D. Evans, the alienist,
and A. Russell Peabody, of counsel for Thaw, yesterday visited the patient. Before seeing Thaw the visitors had a half-hour conference with Dr. Lamb. Dr. Evans said he did not come to Matteawan to make an examination of Thaw, but merely because the patient appeared to be cheered up by his visits.

That there is friction among Thaw's counsel over the question
whether an attempt to have him released from the asylum shall or shall not be made is denied, and it is stated that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, wife
of the patient, has become reconciled
to Thaw remaining in the hospital for the present. It is said also that it is unlikely that the members of the Thaw family will visit him frequently at Matteawan.

Thaw has requested that neither
his wife nor his mother visit him
while he is at Matteawan.

It has been practically decided that there is no way under the law by which Thaw can be confined in a private sanitarium instead of the Mat-
teawan institution and his lawyers
and family are said to have agreed that it would be unwise to ask for his release now. Martin W. Littleton, who conducted Thaw's defense in
court, left yesterday for a six weeks'
vacation in Florida, and it is possible that no move will be made in the case before his return.

Reports from Albany that Thaw's
other lawyers would apply to Dr. Ferries of the State Lunacy commission,
in the hope of inducing that official to order his transfer to some other institution were ridiculed by both Dan O'Reilly and A. Russell Peabody. Superintendent of Prisons Collins at Albany, declared he would see Thaw at Matteawan today, but had no intention of investigating the charges that he has been ill treated there.

The right hand, which is more sensitive to the touch than the left, is less sensitive than the latter to the effects of heat and cold.

JUDGE HARGIS KILLED

Falls Dead From Shots
Fired by His Drink-
crazed Son

His Name Stained the Records of Breathitt County Ky., as King of Feudists.

Jackson, Ky., Feb. 7.—Judge "Jim" Hargis, one of the central figures in the Breathitt county feuds that have attracted so much attention to the mountain men of Kentucky, was shot to death Thursday afternoon by his own son, Beech Hargis, a typical
young mountaineer, who is barely
more than 20 years of age. The tragedy occurred in the father's general
store, while a half score of customers
were making purchases.

The younger Hargis fired five shots
in such quick order and with such unerring aim, that the father was struck
in the breast by four bullets, while reeling backward and falling to the floor lifeless.

Panic-stricken the mountain shop-
pers hurried to the street for safety.
Young Hargis followed, waving his
empty pistol in the air and shrieking
like a madman. A half dozen rugged mountain men were required to over-
power him and lodge him in the little village jail, for it was found that he had gone stark mad and become a frenzied maniac. He fought like a fiend to escape from his captors.

What occurred between the father
and son and led up to the tragic shooting is not definitely known. At various times during the past year
it is known that they have had differences over young Hargis' addiction
to mountain "licker," the elder Hargis himself a temperate man, frequently reproving the son for his drinking habits.

About 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Beech entered his father's store. He had been drinking and was in an ugly mood. That he and his father had had words earlier in the day was evi-

GRAND JURY

Ordered to Investigate the Alleged Crookedness in Michigan State
Treasurer's Office.

Mason, Mich., Feb. 7.—Judge Wiest
Thursday afternoon charged the Ingham county grand jury to investigate
three state matters—the acts of Frank P. Glazier, late state treasurer
who resigned while under charges by Governor Warner misfeasance in office; the reports that certain state
senators solicited bribes to defeat at the last session of the Legislature the bill establishing a binder twine plant
at the state prison in Jackson; and the charge made by Governor Warner
while the election of a United States senator was before the Legislature a year ago that Arthur Hill, of Saginaw, one of the leading candidates, had used improper means to further his election. Judge Wiest told the jury emphatically to go "to the bottom of things," and also that
other matters might be presented to
it later.

SEVERAL HURT BY JUMPING FROM WINDOWS

New York, Feb. 7.—In an effort to save herself from flames, which raged
through a five-story apartment house
today, Margaret Landon, aged 22,
jumped five stories to the pavement
below and was instantly killed. Wm.
Wing, Chinese vice consul at New York, jumped from a third story and is in a critical condition. A number of other tenants and spectators were injured while the firemen were struck by falling walls. The fire, it is believed, to be incendiary and three employees of the apartment house are under arrest.

F. L. FERGUSON

HAS A NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH IN A COASTING ACCIDENT.

KNOCKED DOWN BY SLED

And Severely Bruised, But Luckily No Bones Were Broken—News From Granville.

Granville, O., Feb. 7.—For the past two nights coasting in Granville has created a great deal of sport for the young people of the village, and each night hundreds of young people and children indulged in the pastime at all hours of the day and until late at night. One of the most popular hills used by the coasters is that of Sugar Loaf. Here there is a long steep stretch, which carries the coasters up to Broadway and down that thoroughfare for several blocks. All this, however, is simply preliminary to the story we set out to tell. Thursday evening about 5 o'clock, F. L. Ferguson, of the republican staff of the Newark Advocate, came within one of being killed, and all by his own carelessness. He was on his way home, with his bundle of exchanges under his arm, and was taking the middle of the road. He had reached the corner of Burg and Broadway, at the foot of Sugar Loaf, and stopped for a moment to speak to a gentleman, commenting on the dangers of coasting, when, with a bang, something struck him. It was a big, double bob sled, with about 16 young men on it, who, thinking Ferg had been seriously injured threw themselves from the sled, and started to his assistance. Ferguson, however, with his well known agility, slowly regained his feet, only to be knocked down again by another bob sled. This time he failed to arise until assisted by some of the young men. He was under the impression that every bone in his body had been broken, but an examination showed that he was still intact, and he limped home, where he soaked himself thoroughly with liniments, and Friday he was able to be at his desk again. It is safe to say that he will get in the road of coasters no more. The only one whom he blames for the accident is himself. He should have known better than to stop in the middle of a coasting track to gossip. This item is written by the victim himself.

By the will of the late Mrs. Anna A. Comstock the Fifth street Baptist church of Newark, gets the sum of $2,500 invested in high grade securities. She also left $500 to the Ohio Baptist convention. The residue of the estate is to be divided equally between six legatees.

A fine bequest to the trustees of Maple Grove cemetery, legatees under the will of the late Miss Sarah E. Edwards, has been received by them already. Besides endowing her family lot in the cemetery for $300, the residue of her estate amounted to $800, all of which is now in the hands of the trustees. Miss Edwards was the daughter of the late David Edwards, formerly of Harrison township, who died in Columbus about three years ago. The trustees now have over $6,000 in investments for the perpetual care of Maple Grove cemetery.

On last Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Burton East entertained with their usual delightful hospitality a number of friends in honor of Miss Gertrude Colwell of Washington, D. C., who has been visiting at the home of her uncle, Dr. R. S. Colwell, for some time.

On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, regular services will be held at St. Luke's Episcopal church, conducted by the Rev. L. P. Franklin, and the venerable arch-deacon, W. Dodson. At 2 o'clock Sunday school will be held. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

The Phi Gamma entertained the following young ladies at dinner Thursday evening: Misses Mary Louise Chamberlin, Helen Larson, Sue Albright, Mabel Hicks, Hazel Althool, and Fay Weber.

Rev. Mr. Field is improving his property by adding to his house a room on the south side, which he will use as his office.

The slippery pavements in Granville was the cause of another accident Thursday, when Mrs. Mary Parsons fell on the icy walk, injuring her left wrist and badly bruising herself.

DENISON VS. KENTUCKY.

Granville, O., Feb. 7.—It is confidently expected that one of the most exciting and hotly contested basketball games ever played in Granville will be that of tonight, when the Baptists will measure their skill with the Kentucky university five. As this is the first time the Kentuckians have stacked up against Denison in any form of athletics, it is very evident that both teams will strain themselves to get the long end of the score, and put the game on the won side of the record. At this time it looks as if the largest crowd that ever assembled in Cleveland hall will gather there tonight.

LITTLE BOY BLUE.

Little Boy Blue, and his sister too, were sent to the store to buy some Spartan Stain to make new again the old clock at home that stood high. And the man in the store said, "Here's something as good," but the boy and his sister at once understood, and they answered real plain, "No; we want Spartan Stain," and they left him and never returned again. If your dealer does not handle Spartan Stain, go to the Newark Paint Co., 31 West Church street.

JOHN S. WILLIAMS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—Representative John Shary Williams of Missouri, minority leader in the house of representatives, outlined to the house the legislative program which will be fought for by the Democratic party in congress during the remainder of this session. Mr. Williams received his inspiration at a conference between William Jennings Bryan and house and senate Democratic leaders held in Washington last week, and announced at the outset of his speech that he spoke "not for himself alone. The speech is heard by almost the full Democratic membership and a large number of Republicans.

FIRST OFFENSE.

Says the Pretty Kentucky Widow, Was Her Theft, and She Was Forced by Want.

Baltimore, Feb. 6.—A comely young woman of refined appearance and stylishly dressed, who says she is Mrs. Louise Casell, formerly of Louisville, Ky., was arrested yesterday on the charge of shoplifting.

"I admit taking the things," she said. "This is the first time in my life that I was ever in such trouble and the first time in my life that I ever took anything that did not belong to me. I was driven to it by necessity, as I couldn't get employment and I was out of funds.

"I am a widow and my husband was a foreigner. I do not want to give the names of my mother and father. Theirs were honorable names in Kentucky. I have sent a telegram to Mr. H. M. Flenner, in Louisville, and asked him if he would not testify that my past reputation was good."

NEW WAY.

The old friends and neighbors of Mr. Fred Stille were pained to learn of his death which occurred Friday. For years he was a resident of this place.

Mrs. George Shockley has returned from Columbus, where she was staying with her mother, Mrs. Martin Lake, at Grand hospital. Mrs. Lake is recovering rapidly from her recent operation.

Mr. Lloyd Hawkins of Homer was a guest of the Butler family the latter part of the week.

COURT NEWS

Wayne vs. Wayne.
Mary E. Wayne of Granville, this county, has filed a petition in the Probate court asking for a decree of divorce from her husband, Ralph C. Wayne, who, she says, is at present living at the Stag Hotel in Columbus. She says that she was married to the defendant July 2, 1889, and that one child was born of the marriage. She charges neglect, failure to provide and extreme cruelty and asks for a decree of divorce and the custody of the child. Smythe & Smythe, attorneys for plaintiff.

Richter vs. Richter.
Charles Richter has commenced a suit in the Probate court against Alice Richter for divorce. The parties were married June 20, 1900, and one child was born of the marriage. He charges infidelity and extreme cruelty. Geo. D. Adkins, attorney for plaintiff.

Decision Reserved.

Arguments were heard in the Probate court Friday morning on application of J. W. Keller, administrator of Thomas H. Keller, deceased, to have his personal claim against the estate amounting to about $4000, allowed. S. L. James appeared for the plaintiff, and J. A. Flory, P. B. Smythe and W. D. Fulton represented the defendant. The court reserved its decision.

Answer in Damage Suit.

In the case of George O. Watson vs. Pinney Haas, suit for $10,000 damages for defamation of character in saying that he was dishonest, the defendant has filed his answer. He says that the words spoken by him were in reply to a question addressed to him by James Bricker, and were confidential and privileged, and he asks that the petition of the plaintiff be dismissed. Kibler & Montgomery, attorneys.

SIX MONTHS

Is Age of Baby Who Swims Length of Bathing and Does Gymnastic Stunts.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—"Come on fellows. Beat you to the swimming hole. First dive."

Leland H. Anderson, six months old, Chicago's champion strong baby, didn't say this, but he looked it when his mother placed him at the head of the bathtub and let him snot the water and paddle himself across to the other end. When he reached this his mother placed her hand under his chin, turned him around, and he paddled back to the head of the tub again.

Baby Leland swims the length of the tub with as much ease as many 16 year olds beat it across the "swimmin' hole." Mrs. Lewis H. Anderson, 5316 Jackson avenue, explained that when he first started to swim she had to keep her hand under his chin to keep the water from his mouth, but now he has learned to hold up his head while taking the strokes.

When he takes a swim, Mrs. Anderson also puts him through a number of simple exercises, such as raising and lowering himself on a cane, hanging by the knees, hanging by one hand, and other similar stunts.

CAPT. J. H. SMITH IS MUCH WORSE

Captain James H. Smith, one of the directors of the Licking County Infirmary, who was taken suddenly ill at the infirmary a few days ago, is reported as being in a very serious condition at this writing and his friends are alarmed over his condition. Word from the institution Friday afternoon says that he is suffering with one of his spells and that he is much worse than at any time since he was taken sick.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS

No Action Taken.

So far executive officials of railroads in 2 cent fare states have taken no action as to what move will be made following the decision in Pennsylvania knocking out the 2 cent law. It is understood that the matter has been considered and that a policy is being outlined, however.

Ten Thousand Laid Off.

Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—Ten thousand men have been laid off since December by the Baldwin Locomotive works of this city, because of lack of orders for engines. Samuel M. Vauclain a member of the firm in speaking of the conditions at the works, said:

"No substantial orders have come in since December. We have received a few scattered orders, and we are working upon these now. Where, as we were formerly turning out about 60 locomotives a week we are now turning out only 20, and we will have finished up all our work in a short time."

"What has been responsible for this?" was asked.

"Lack of orders, not only from American but European sources. Japan is in financial trouble and is sending no orders at all."

Tunnel to be Opened.

The tunnels under the Hudson connecting New York and New Jersey will be opened to the public on February 25. President Roosevelt will touch a button on his desk in the executive office in the White House at Washington which will mark the formal opening of the tunnel, trains on which will be the governors of the two states and various other distinguished guests being started on the signal which the president will give. Discretion in Telegraphing.

As one of the economies being instituted by General Manager Peck of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, and General Manager Atterbury of the lines east, have issued general notices requesting all departments to use the utmost discretion in using the company's telegraph wires. This is done to reduce as much as possible the number of messages sent each day, as well as to secure better attention to the messages of importance. Since January 1, a reduction of nearly 1,500 messages a day has been made in the main office of the company in Philadelphia.

DESIRE OF DISTINCTION.

Quaint Illustration of a Peculiar Phase of Human Nature.

In "Doc Gordon," by Mary E. Wilkins-Freeman, is a quaint illustration of a peculiar phase of human nature. It develops with the visits of the two doctors to their poorer patients:

James drove all the morning with Dr. Gordon about the New Jersey country. The country people were either satirized with an odd shyness, which had something almost hostile in it, or they were effusively hospitable, forcing apple jack upon the two doctors. James was much struck by the curious unconcern shown by the relatives of the patients and even by the patients themselves. In only one case, that of a child suffering from a bad case of measles, was much interest evinced. The majority of the patients were the very old and middle aged, and they discussed and heard discussed their symptoms with much the same attitude as they might have discussed the mechanism of a wooden doll. If any emotion was shown, it was that of a singular inverted pride. "I had a terrible night, doctor," said one old woman, and a smirk of self conceit was over her ancient face. "Yes, mother had a awful night," said her married daughter, with a triumphant expression. Even the children clustering about the doctor looked unconsciously proud because their old grandmother had had an awful night. The call of the two doctors at the house was positively hilarious. Quantities of old apple jack were forced upon them. The old woman in the adjoining bedroom, although she was evidently suffering, kept calling out a feeble joke in her cackling old voice.

"Those people seem positively elated because that old soul is sick," said James when he and the doctor were again in the buggy.

"They are," said Dr. Gordon, "even the old woman herself, who knows well enough that she has not long to live. Did you ever think that the desire of distinction was one of the most, perhaps the most, intense purely spiritual emotion of the human soul? Look at the way these people live here, grubbing away at the soil like ants. The most of them have in their lives just three ways of attracting notice, the momentary consideration of their kind—birth, marriage, sickness and death. With the first they are hardly actively concerned; even with the second many have nothing to do. There are more women than men, as usual, and, although the women want to marry, all the men do not. There remains only sickness and death for a standby, so to speak. If one of them is really sick and dies, the people are aroused to take notice. The sick person and the corpse have a certain state and dignity which they have never attained before. Why, bless you, man, I have one patient, a middle aged woman, who has been laid up for years with rheumatism, and she is fairly vainglorious, and so is her mother. She brags of her invalid daughter. If she had been merely an old maid on her hands, she would have been ashamed of her, and the woman herself would have been sour and discontented. But she has fairly married rheumatism. It has been to her as a husband and children. I tell you, young man, one has to have his little footstool of elevation among his fellows, even if it is a mighty queer one, or he loses his self respect, and self respect is the best jewel we have."

Much Wanted.

The following advertisement, quoted from a Boston paper of a date early in the nineteenth century by Mr. Janson in "The Stranger in America," shows that the domestic problem is not one of modern manufacture. But what mistress of today would dare to impose such conditions on the hindrance in the kitchen?

Much Wanted: A neat, well behaved female to do kitchen work in a small family in Charlestown, near Boston. She may pray and sing hymns, but not over the dishcloth. She may go to meeting, but not belong to the congregation of midnight worshippers. Inquire at Repertory office, near Boston.

A Natural Fortress.
In the northern part of Madagascar is the most remarkable natural fortress in the world. It is occupied by a wild tribe who call themselves the People of the Rocks. The fortress is a lofty and precipitous rock of enormous size, 1,000 feet high and eight square miles in area. Its sides are so steep that it cannot be climbed without artificial means. Within it is hollow, and the only entrance is, by a subterranean passage.—St. James' Gazette.

Thrift.
There is an old fashioned word that ought to come into use again—thrift. There are a distressing number of shiftless people in the world, and, while we shall call no names, we hope every reader will pause at this paragraph and think seriously of thrift and shiftlessness.—Atchison Globe.

The Changed View.
Every man takes care that his neighbor does not cheat him. But a day comes when he begins to care that he does not cheat his neighbor. Then all goes well. He has changed his market cart into a chariot of the sun.—Emerson.

A Little Ball.
Cassidy—Ah, well, no wan kin prevent wad's past an' gone. Cassidy—Ye could if ye only acted quick enough. Cassidy—Go 'long, man! How could ye? Cassidy—Step it before it happens.—Kansas City Independent.

Fined Under Peace Bond.

The charm hasn't been broken and the police circles "is as quiet as ever." When Mayor Atherton called the court to order, Friday morning, only two cases were stated for his investigation. The first called was a regular drunk and was handed the usual fine. The second, while not an unusual one, was rather tedious to try. William Griffith was arrested on a peace warrant sworn to by his wife, Mrs. Jennie Griffith. She alleges that while they have separated he continues to follow her, and has threatened her with violence. After hearing the case Griffith was placed under a peace bond of $100.

Sand on Sidewalks.
The Board of Public Service had a number of men out Friday morning scattering sand on the icy sidewalks around the square and in various parts of the city. This was appreciated by everybody and especially the merchants. Pedestrians were safe whenever they hit the sand, and many of them could be heard whistling that popular old melody, "Keep Your Feet in the Sand."

Afternoon Fire Alarm.
Central fire company was called to the old Stanbery residence, corner Locust and Stanbery streets, at 2:30 Friday. Slight damage was done by a blaze which started from a gas jet. A number of children were playing in an upstairs room and in some manner set fire to a paper near the gas jet, and in their fright threw the burning paper on a near by couch which was destroyed. B. & O. Conductor Miller Shaffer and family reside in the house.

Peace Bond.
The charm hasn't been broken and the police circles "is as quiet as ever." When Mayor Atherton called the court to order, Friday morning, only two cases were stated for his investigation. The first called was a regular drunk and was handed the usual fine. The second, while not an unusual one, was rather tedious to try. William Griffith was arrested on a peace warrant sworn to by his wife, Mrs. Jennie Griffith. She alleges that while they have separated he continues to follow her, and has threatened her with violence. After hearing the case Griffith was placed under a peace bond of $100.

LOCAL OPTION UP TO HOUSE FOR PASSAGE

AND IT IS CONCEDED THERE IS NO EARTHLY HOPE OF DE-FEATING IT.

TIME OF TAKING EFFECT

Is the Only Concession Expected by Opponents of the Measure—
Solutions Resuming Work.

Columbus, Feb. 7.—There was in evidence about the halls of legislation yesterday a positive air of relief from the strain that the struggle over the Rose local option bill has put upon the members ever since the very opening of the session. But branches put in a hard day's work, clearing off their calendars and making new ones for next week, for after today's session they will not return until next Wednesday. This recess is taken in order to let the politicians on the Republican side go home and look after their interests at the primaries, which are to be held next Tuesday.

Conspicuously absent from the hotel lobbies and the chambers of the Assembly were the hosts that came from a distance to advise with the Senators both for and against the local option bill. There now remain only the leaders, the shouting having died away and the captains departed with their companies of able rhetoricians.

It is not settled yet that the fight of the opponents to the temperance program is at an end. There were a number of meetings at which the ground was gone over and a casting-up of conditions made. It is of course, settled that there is no hope alive of defeating the Rose bill outright. There is a chance, though, a faint one, that an amendment may be made to it that will exempt cities in some fashion and that the execution of it may be postponed until the expiration of the time for which Alken tax certificates are good. This last proposition appeals to certain heads in the reform party, because it means just that much more money for the use of the state. However, the victors in Wednesday's fight may not want to extend the time beyond September. This concession was granted, reluctantly, as was stated by Senator Rose in his speech.

Yesterday it was announced through Chairman Briggs of the Temperance committee of the House of Representatives, that the bill would be allowed to take its regular course. There would be no suspension of the rules and rushing through the measure, he said. At the same time he asserted that it would be next to useless to prolong the fight unduly, because the bill would have between 80 and 90 votes in the lower body. The measure is now in the hands of the House.

Thursday afternoon Senator Hynes of Springfield, acting for the friends of the bill, moved a reconsideration of the vote by which it was adopted. Under instructions the temperance men voted it down, thereby clinching their victory. Thereupon it was transmitted across the Capitol and given its first reading. When Senator Rose appeared a bouquet of red roses was placed upon his desk and he was called upon to respond, which he did with much feeling. In concluding his address he expressed the hope that lovers of fair play would place upon the desk of President of the Senate James Williams a bunch of sweet Williams as a token of admiration for the impartiality he showed in this great fight for reform.

It is expected that when the General Assembly returns next week some definite plan will be decided upon regarding the time when the measure shall be finally voted upon. This is sought in order that the Finance committee may get to work on the final appropriation bills. It can be set down now that no effort will be made to bring a vote in the counties containing the large cities of the state within the fair weather following September. This is the opinion of Superintendent Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League.

Other temperance men expressed the conviction that it might not before the following spring that action would be taken even in the smaller counties. This will enable those dealers who are satisfied that their counties will go "dry" to dispose of their investments and seek another field.

A review of the ballot indicates that it was not a real test. It is now known that two Democratic Senators who voted in the negative stood ready to vote the other way if it was necessary to save the bill. On the other hand, some of the enemies of local option voted for the measure, knowing that their negative votes would be thrown away. The result it will be seen, would have been the same under this changed condition.

Without knowing it the House of Representatives came very near passing a bill to punish any man who enters a saloon or takes a drink on a Sunday. It got into the bill by amendment. This measure was offered by Representative Hatfield of Clark county, and provided that the Sunday law should be extended to Memorial Day. Several of the G. A. R. members supported the bill in patriotic speeches. Then representative Foster of Hancock county, offered an amendment which seemed to make it an offense to take a drink in a saloon on that day or to even enter one. Captain Lybarger of Coshocton, accepted this for the old soldiers. On the ballot the bill failed, 50 to 2. This action was reconsidered. Then it was learned that the amendment also included Sundays. Very promptly the bill was laid over until next week, when the amendment will be extracted.

STATISTICS

Showing the Effect Upon Licking and
Other Counties if Voted Dry
Under Rose Bill.

Now that the Rose bill has passed the Senate and there is a probability of it becoming a law, many inquiries are made as to how it will affect Licking county.

At the last December collection there were 82 saloons in the county, which paid the Alken tax. Four of them were located in Johnstown, which has since gone dry. One located in this city, has given up its license, which leaves 77 on the tax duplicate. At present the Alken tax is divided five-tenths to the municipality where collected, three-tenths to the state and two-tenths to the county poor fund. According to that proportion the city of Newark, derives $38,000 per year as its share of the tax. The county would receive $15,400, and the state $23,100. The county's share is credited to the poor fund and is used in assisting to maintain the infirmary.

If all the counties of the state went dry it would mean a loss in revenue of over $9,000,000. There are 14 counties with a total of 2,138 saloons that the temperance people agree many not be voted dry for several years. These are Allen, 92 saloons; Ashtabula, 114; Belmont, 104; Butler, 174; Clark, 107; Columbiana, 123; Erie, 137; Jefferson, 162; Lorain, 167; Mahoning, 269; Stark, 236; Summit, 220. Tuscarawas, 98; Licking, 77. In addition to these the counties of Cuyahoga Hamilton, Lucas, Franklin and Montgomery would hardly vote dry. There are 5,269 saloons in the five counties so that the income from them alone would be over $5,000,000. Outside of the 19 counties mentioned there are 2,083 saloons in the 69 other counties. The temperance people believe that all of these would go dry.

PRESIDENT URGES
IMMEDIATE NEED OF BATTLESHIPS

Washington, Feb. 7.—The revival of rumors of difficulties between the United States and Japan in their negotiations over the immigration question, is supposed to be due to the construction placed upon recent conversations the President has had with members of the naval affairs committee of the House.

The President has endeavored to impress upon the congressmen the importance of carrying out the administration's naval program and is said to have mentioned the desirability of maintaining a strong force on the Pacific coast. He wants four battleships to be authorized in the present session of Congress.

CORPORATIONS

Barred From Contributing Directly or Indirectly to Any Campaign Expenses.

Columbus, O., Feb. 7.—By one vote more than the required majority, the House of Representatives yesterday passed the Hunt bill prohibiting corporations from taking part in politics and sent it to the Senate. This provides that local and foreign corporations shall not pay, use or offer, consent or agree to pay or use any money or property for any political, party, political committee, candidates or organizations. This is made sweeping, even including reimbursement or indemnification. Corporations must file in May and September an affidavit declaring that the law has been obeyed. Persons offending are subject to a year's imprisonment and the corporation to a fine of from $500 to $5000. The "immunity" provided for witnesses desiring to turn state's evidence.

NOT SEEKING NOMINATION NOW

BRYAN SAYS IT IS TOO EARLY TO CONSIDER CANDIDATES AT THIS TIME.

Against Any Colonization Scheme but Would Spend Money to Irrigate Western Lands.

New York, Feb. 7.—"I am not seeking the Democratic presidential nomination," announced Wm. J. Bryan to an audience of 2500 people in the Newark Colosseum, Thursday night. "It is too early to consider candidates yet. But if I am chosen as the standard-bearer of the party I shall stand for everything that is Democratic and nothing that is not Democratic. If I am the candidate, I want to run for president without any national committee and without a campaign fund. I'd rather not have a dollar behind me than money obtained from sources that would shame me if uncovered."

The Newark meeting was the last of three speeches delivered by the Nebraskan in Jersey cities throughout the day and evening. It was held under the auspices of the Progressive Democratic league.

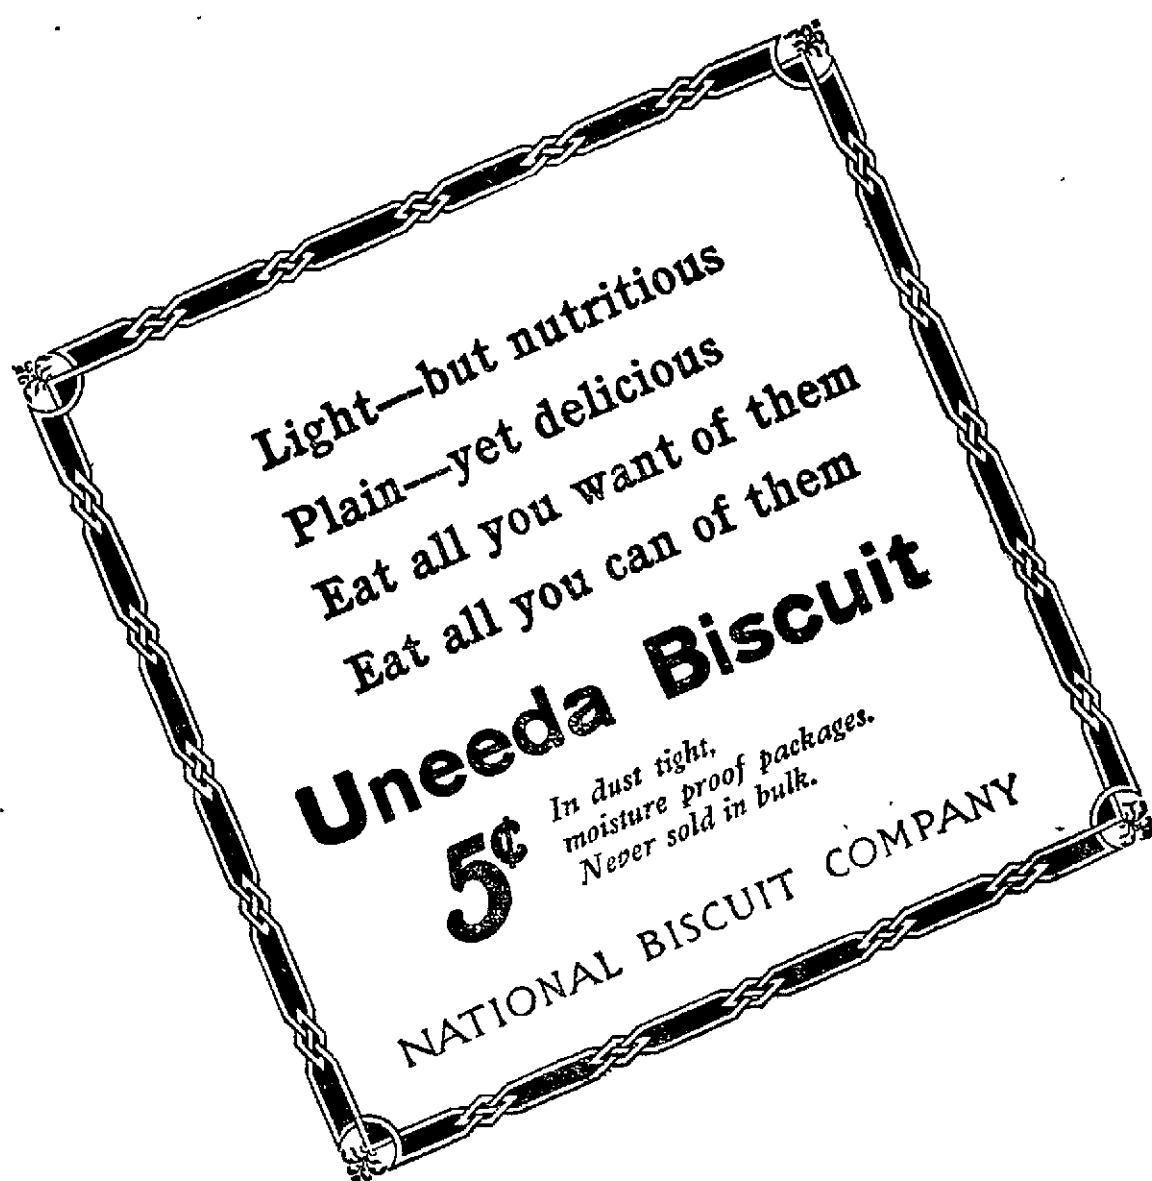

"Roosevelt hasn't stolen all my feathers," continued Mr. Bryan. "I am against the colonization scheme. We are spending $500,000,000 in the Philippines when we might irrigate the whole western states and make farms for thousands of Americans."

He reiterated his declaration for a government control of currency issues; for jury trial of labor injunction cases, and then announced that while he would work for the election of any other Democratic nominee as hard as for himself, he intended to see that the convention put a man up of whom the party need not be ashamed.

GAME SUPPER

Given a Number of Friends by Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schaller at Their Eighth Street Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schaller were the host and hostess of a delightful game supper at their home at 22 Eighth street, Thursday evening. The supper was prepared by Mrs. Schaller assisted by Mrs. J. W. Keefe and Miss Jennie Probasco and many were the compliments which they received for their excellent ability along the lines of culinary art. The game was brought from North Carolina by Mr. Schaller and Fred Furrell, who spent a couple of weeks hunting in the old North State, and it consisted of wild turkey, rice birds and different wild game found in the section of the country which the gentlemen had visited.

The evening was pleasantly spent in cards, music, parlor diversions and story telling. Messrs. Schaller and Furrell were forced to tell of their experiences in the field and along the streams and their ability as hunters.

BABOON

Fastened Its Fangs into a School-boy's Body, While Another Beast Chased His Comrades.

Ocean Park, Cal., Feb. 7.—Mark H. Howlett, aged 13 years, pupil in the Ocean Park school was bitten in the back of the neck and legs by a large African baboon which had escaped from its cage at the home of George B. McClelland and broke into the lunch room of the school, causing panic and confusion.

Another baboon, which escaped at the same time, raced around the school yard and chased the children, who took refuge in the school house and other buildings. Young Howlett's wounds are regarded as serious. The animals were attracted to the building by the lunches of the children, upon which they feasted before being recaptured by McClelland and others who came to assist him.

ASK MILLIONS FOR INCREASE OF U. S. NAVY

SECRETARY METCALF MAKES A BIG ESTIMATE OF THE URGENT NEEDS.

It is Probable, However, That the Appropriations Will be Reduced by Many Millions.

Washington, Feb. 7.—When Secretary Metcalf appeared before the House committee on naval affairs, he made a strong plea for appropriations for naval construction up to the full limit of the recommendations of the President in his annual message to Congress. Secretary Metcalf asked for an appropriation of $69,270,000 for construction and converting of war vessels.

While no vote has been taken nor has sentiment in the committee crystallized, the impression prevails that the secretary's estimate will be reduced materially, possibly to the limit of $40,000,000, in accord with the policy of economy and retrenchment felt to be necessary in the face of an impending deficit and the prospect of reduced revenues throughout the coming fiscal year.

Secretary Metcalf appeared before the committee in executive session, and advanced arguments to show the necessity of authorizing the construction of four battleships to cost $38,000,000 for all, four scout cruisers at $10,000,000; ten destroyers at $8,500,000; four submarines at $1,520,000; one ammunition ship, $1,750,000; one repair ship, $2,000,000, two mine-laying ships (cruisers to be converted and equipped) at $5,000, and four fleet colliers at $7,000,000.

At the close of the executive session the committee held an informal session to hear proposals of the New York Sub-surface Torpedo Boat company relatives to the building of a new type of torpedo boat—a combined surface and sub-surface craft designed for open sea fighting.

The builders asked the committee to recommend the appropriation of $900,000 for the building of two of these craft of a length of 225 feet, a tonnage of 500, a navigating capacity of 3,000 miles, and a speed of twenty-two knots, at a cost of $400,000 each, and of four such craft of smaller size and a 16 knot speed, acceptance by the government to be subject to fulfillment of all qualifications.

THIRD TERM RESOLUTION TO COME UP

REPRESENTATIVE CLAYTON BELIEVES HIS MEASURE DECLARING AGAINST POLICY

Should be Passed in View of the Interpretation of President's Message by Politicians.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Representative Clayton of Alabama, will press his anti-third-term resolution, which for some weeks has been slumbering in the room of the committee on election of president. Mr. Clayton holds to the opinion that the events of the last week, and particularly the tone of the President's message, make it advisable that his resolution should receive affirmative action.

Early in the session Mr. Clayton introduced as a resolution a copy of the resolution introduced years before by Mr. Springer, declaring against the election of any person to the Presidency for a third term. The resolution attracted much attention, and it became apparent that a majority vote for it in the House could easily be obtained, and that there was a determination on the part of some of the influential Republicans that the House should be given the opportunity to vote on the question.

Then came the letter of the President in which he again renounced the renomination. This statement of the President was followed by an intimation that favorable action on the Clayton resolution would not be objected to at the White House. In view of the positive statement of the President taking himself out of all Presidential calculations, it was thought best not to permit the Clayton resolution to be further agitated. The revival of the gossip that the President may be the nominee of the Republican convention and that the message of last week is interpreted by some Republicans as a warning that under certain conditions the President may be forced to accept the nomination leads Mr. Clayton to believe his resolution is once more essential.

WENT ALONE

To Meet Bandit and Sir Harry MacLean Was Put in Captivity by Raisuli—Is Now Free.

Tangier, Feb. 7.—Said Sir Harry MacLean, commander of the Sultan's body-guard, and next to the Sultan, the most influential man in Morocco, has arrived here under an escort from the bandit, Raisuli, who has held him under bondage for the past seven months. He was brought here in accordance with the agreement which the British government succeeded in making with Raisuli for his release. In return for which Great Britain will pay $100,000 to Raisuli and guarantee him protection and immunity from arrest.

The capture of Caid MacLean was carefully planned. He went out to meet Raisuli alone in order to persuade the bandit chief to resume a peaceable mode of life. Later Raisuli sent a message to the Sultan announcing the capture of the commander of his bodyguard and informing His Majesty that he would hold the General a prisoner until terms that he submitted were granted. These terms included the payment of a large indemnity and his reappointment to the governorship of Tangier. Subsequently the British government took the negotiations upon its shoulders, finally succeeding in bringing Raisuli to terms.

CHORUS GIRL'S RIGHT SWING

Landed on the Point of Her Would-be Admirer's Jaw and Sent Him Sprawling.

New York, Feb. 7.—The son of a well known brewer dined sumptuously and strolled up Broadway to see the sights. One that particularly attracted his attention was a chorus girl, who for some seasons has been a familiar figure on musical comedy stages along the Rialto.

The brewer-once-removed stopped short, then lurched toward the young woman and embraced her. The next instant he received a right swing in the eye that sent him sprawling. On regaining his feet the young man spun around twice, fell through the door of a hotel bar and loudly called for a drink. Thereupon some one hit him in the other eye and threw him out.

"This is too much," he said to a crowd that collected. "Times are not what they were before the panic and I'm going home."

PRODUCTS OF NATURE

Are the Most Nutritious, Delicious and Beneficial.

How quickly the human system rebels at nature's products which Providence did not design as a food or medicine, yet how many of our most nourishing and delicious foods and fruits, as well as our most healing medicines are enveloped in unwholesome coverings, and it is left for the ingenuity of man to prepare them for use.

For instance, the nourishing eggs must be broken from its shell, the succulent oysters, or the crab, taken from its shell. Nuts, oranges and bananas are encased in most unwholesome shells or coverings. The roots and herbs of the field contain some of our most potent and healing medicaments which must be extracted for use. Just so, the cod's liver contains well known curative elements, unexcelled in the treatment of pulmonary troubles.

For centuries people were obliged to swallow greasy cod liver oil and emulsions to get the benefit of these valuable curative elements. Physicians the world over recognized the uselessness of the oil, but how to separate the medicinal elements from the objectionable oil, has been the question.

After years of experimenting, two eminent French chemists have, by scientific, extractive and concentrating process produced from fresh cod's livers all of the medicinal, healing and body building elements of cod liver oil, omitting the oil entirely, and these combined with peptonate-of-iron make Vinol, which is more potent than any other known Cod Liver preparation. As a body builder, and strength creator and for all pulmonary troubles it has no equal. Try Vinol on our guarantee. Frank D. Hall, Druggist, Newark, Ohio.

TO CIRCUMVENT LABOR DECISION

CONCERNING DAMAGES FOR BOYCOTT, ROOSEVELT HAS A PLAN.

Recommends Amendment to Law and Also Compulsory Arbitration in Disputes.

Washington, Feb. 7.—President Roosevelt has a plan to circumvent the Supreme court decision handed down a few days ago, in which it was held that a labor union is a conspiracy in restraint of trade under the Sherman law, and the union and its members are liable for the triple damages provided by that act.

The President's program consists of two parts. They are:

First—Amendment of the Sherman law so that it shall specifically except labor union and co-related organizations from its operations.

Second—Passage of a compulsory arbitration act, under which big labor disputes will be arbitrated and settled, under public authority, before they develop such proportions as shall make boycotts, strikes, etc., possible or necessary.

Another message to Congress is coming in the near future. It will deal with this whole set of questions; with the decision in the Edman case, where the Supreme court held that an employer was entitled to discharge an employee for belonging to a union; with the Hatter's decision and with the question of compulsory arbitration.

The Edman act was an arbitration act, including a provision that no employee might be discharged by reason of membership in a union. The arbitration sections are not considered affected by the decision about the right to discharge, but they are no longer effective in view of that decision. Compulsory arbitration becomes necessary, it is felt by the advocates of advanced labor legislation and this, probably in the form in which it is prescribed by the bill of Representative Townsend of Michigan already pending in committee, is to be endorsed by the President.

This program, together with insistent demand for the passage of a new employers' liability bill, constitutes it is stated, the President's scheme for overcoming the effect of the recent anti-labor decisions of the highest court.

Confirmation of the extraordinary speed with which the government is working on its defenses in the East came here yesterday in an official report that 22 six-inch guns have been emplaced at Subig bay.

AMUSEMENTS

THE MAN OF THE HOUR.
"The Man of the Hour" which Wm. A. Brady and Joseph Grismer will offer to the theater goers at the Auditorium tonight marks a new era in the history of the stage. It follows none of the old methods of speech or motion. It enjoys the unique distinction of never having received adverse criticism. The unanimous praise of the New York press burst upon it like a flood, and its success with the public was said to be equally spontaneous and emphatic.

MRS. TEMPLE'S TELEGRAM.
"Mrs. Temple's Telegram" an uproariously funny and mirth provoking farce, will be presented at the Auditorium Saturday afternoon and night. It is a farce comedy of the American school, by Frank Wyatt and William Morris, and while it depends on absurd situations for its humor, it seems probable and in addition, the lines are exceptionally bright. Every minute of the performance brings some new complications in the most natural way out of the original fib from which the story is woven, and from the time the curtain goes up the audience is kept in convulsions of laughter. While there is nothing subtle about the humor, still there is never a resort to horse play, and the play moves along with an evenness that furnishes not even the most captious critic with cause for complaint. The characters are splendidly drawn. While the plot is consistent, there is not one line that can be left out without affecting the play.

ORPHUM THEATER.
Tonight is amateur night at the Orphum, and persons desirous of going should secure their seats at once. This week's bill is a top notcher, if applause and patronage are criterions. The entire show promises, not one act but all acts being very good. Of course the Wheelers, eccentric comedy jugglers, and Will H. Fields, clever comedian, are the chief fun makers, while if you like good singing the Lamonts, banjoists and vocalists, certainly fill that way. McHowell of Howell and Webb processes an excellent voice and is singing of late popular songs new or fail to please. Tomorrow night a mahogany chair will be given away.

FIRE MARSHAL

GIVES STATISTICS SHOWING THE NUMBER OF DEATHS DURING YEAR FROM BURNS.

Thirty-six Women and Children Were Victims—Names Causes and Suggests Remedies.

Columbus, Feb. 8.—Thirty-six women and children were burned to death in Ohio during last year from matches igniting their clothing. Of these who suffered death in this most horrible form, 30 were children playing with matches which had been left lying about and 6 were women whose clothing was ignited by glowing sticks or flying match heads.

This does not include five mothers who died from having their clothing ignited while trying to save their burning children. The number of buildings fired by children with matches was 118, but that, comparatively, seems unimportant.

TYPICAL STORIES.

The following are typical stories of these accidents:

Cleveland Leader:—Rosa Telack of 3181 E. 65th St. died yesterday from burns. The child was playing with matches which she obtained in the absence of her mother. Her dress was ignited.

"Mrs. Alice Heffron, 609 Literary Road, attempted to light the gasoline stove and the head of the match flew off. She sat down, falling to notice that the small firebrand had nestled in the folds of a cotton cloth hanging on the chair. Her clothing ignited, burning her so terribly that she died at midnight."

"Niles, O., Oct. 12.—Chiles Reel, the four-year-old son of Charles Reel, died Saturday morning from burns. The little fellow's clothing was discovered in flames. Just before he died, he said: 'Mamma, I don't want any more matches.'"

Twice as many children and women were burned seriously or dangerously in the same way. The mortality was greatest in children of four. All were under eight. In the United States each year the number of persons burned to death by the "parlor" match, which can be lighted on any hard surface, ranges from 800 to 900. This does not include those caught and burned in buildings fired by matches.

INFAMMABLE CLOTHING.

The liability of the cottons, from which the clothing of women and children are largely made to take fire and burn them to death deserves general and serious consideration. To the 46 dead from their clothes being lighted by matches add 16 by stoves, 32 by grates and 30 children playing with fire. This shows 124 dead in the year in Ohio from the ignition of cotton clothing.

A professor in Scotland has found by experiments that flannellette, which is muslin with a nap raised on it, is no more and no less dangerous than ordinary muslin or calico.

The easy and effective way to terminate this slaughter of the innocents by roasting is to screen open fires and for women to demand that cotton goods for wearing be fire-proofed by the manufacturers.

Perhaps 20 years ago the chemist in Bellevue Hospital Medical college, New York, lost a boy from his pinafore taking fire. The professor, by experiment, found that phosphate of ammonia used to saturate cottons made them permanently fire-proof and spent years in efforts by lectures and pamphlets to get the New England cotton mills to use it.

TO SAVE LIVES.

The fireproofing can be done in the web or after the goods are made up. The Scientific American supplies the following recipes: For light woven fabrics: Sulphate of ammonium 8 parts by weight, carbonate of ammonium 2 1/2 parts, borax 2, boric acid 3, starch 2, water 100. This is the German method which has stood the test especially well.

The United States Consul at Nottingham, England, reports: "In a meeting of the society of dyers at Manchester titanic acid was claimed to possess remarkable fireproofing qualities. An incipient fire in flannellette smouldered and went out, refusing to burst into flame." Cloth treated with any one of these combinations will smoulder but cannot blaze.

Boiling does not remove the chemicals and the cost of so fireproofing linens, muslins and calicoes is but one-seventh of a cent a yard.

Let us hope that in the near future the "parlor" match will be displaced by the "safety" which, because it can be lighted only on the box, will be kept in it and will not be thrown about in reach of children. In the meantime, teach the children the old nursery rhyme:

"The dog bites, the kitty scratches, Fire burns and so do matches."

And put the matches in metal boxes nailed above the reach of an eight-year old. D. S. CREAMER, State Fire Marshal.

DECISION

OF FEDERAL COURT MAINTAINS THAT RAILROADS COMMIT SEPARATE OFFENSES.

When Violating Statute in the Case of Several Shipments Carried on One Train.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 7.—An opinion was handed down this week in the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals in the case of the United States vs. the B. & O. S. W., bearing upon the Federal live stock act, passed June 29, 1906. There are really two cases involved, but they were heard together being alike in all essential features.

Each suit relates to distinct shipments of cattle and swine made by different parties from stations along the line of the road in other states to various consignees in this city. The law provides that cattle in transit must be unloaded for five hours out of 24 for food, rest and water.

In the two cases which came to the Court of Appeals it is alleged that the shipments occupied over 43 hours in each case without complying with the requirements of the law. The defendant road admitted the charge, but as in each case there were about eleven other shipments on each train it was contended that there was but one offense and that but one penalty was incurred. On motion of the road the court below consolidated all the shipments as making up one case. The Appellate court states that the court below evidently was, of the opinion that the statute dealt with the operation of trains by railroad employees and not with different shipments which the trains were carrying.

The question presented, the court says, relates to penalties that depend upon the construction of the first section of the statute. The court holds that the statute deals with shipments or consignments, and that it does not matter whether one or more shipments are taken by a train, and therefore that several offenses may be committed in the transportation of a single train load.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Akron, Feb. 7.—Mrs. William Taylor, aged 22 and her brother, Daniel Thomas, aged 18, were run-down and killed by an Erie train at Talmadge. Blinded by a snow storm they drove directly in front of the express train. The buggy was smashed to splinters.

CAUGHT IN RAID MADE BY POLICE

Pittsburg, Feb. 7.—Charged with sending threatening letters to Pittsburg millionaires, demanding large sums of money, six alleged members of the Black Hand society were arrested here early today, when the police raided a shanty near Sewickley. Pistols, shot-guns and stilletos were found. Although the prisoners deny complicity in "Black Hand" plots, letters and other incriminating evidence are said to have been found. Among the millionaires who have recently received threatening letters are Richard R. Quay, G. H. Singer, C. C. Scaif and W. P. Snider.

MANAGER

Of Taft's Eastern and Southern Campaign Will be First Asst. Postmaster Gen. Hitchcock.

Washington, Feb. 7.—It is authoritatively stated today that Frank H. Hitchcock of Massachusetts, first assistant postmaster general, has accepted the position of eastern and southern manager of the Taft presidential campaign, and that he will resign from the government service, to be succeeded by Charles P. Grandfield, of Missouri, now chief clerk in the first assistant's division.

CHECK RAISER

CAUGHT IN THE VERY ACT AT THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF THIS CITY.

Foreigner Raised Pay Check From Wehrle Company from $7.50 to $67.50.

A foreigner giving his name as Steve Soter, and his residence as being in this city, was arrested at 2:05 o'clock this afternoon at the First National Bank by Officer Swank for attempting to pass a raised check. The man resisted arrest at first but Officer McClure, who also responded to the call, came in at this time and the man was held for the patrol.

Soter has been working at the Wehrle foundry and this morning drew a pay check amounting to $7.50. Times being a little hard, Soter decided to take a chance and he placed a six in front of the seven, making the check read $67.50. Shortly after 2 o'clock he walked quietly into the bank and presented the check to Cashier Wright.

The cashier was suspicious and after examining the check spoke in a low tone and told one of the men in the bank to call the police. He phoned police headquarters and Officer Swank hurried to the scene. He had scarcely placed his man under arrest when Officer McClure, who was also sent to the bank, arrived and together they guarded the man until the patrol arrived and he was taken to the city prison.

A careful examination will be made for it is possible that his is the man that has been attempting to cash some of the "phony" checks that have bothered Newark merchants and bank officials for the past several weeks.

WANT INFORMATION ABOUT STATE MONIES

Columbus, Feb. 7.—In a hot resolution demanding that the general assembly immediately be informed of separate deposits of state monies in various banks, and of the rate of interest being received by the state, Representative J. W. Stockwell of Cuyahoga county, Friday renewed his fight to make the state treasurer yield information to legislators. The resolution gives the names of banks receiving these deposits, as furnished privately to the author by the state treasurer. The number is 150. There are ten in Cincinnati, fourteen in Cleveland, six in Columbus, and seven in Toledo, the rest being scattered.

GAINS

MADE BY THE CATHOLICS IN AMERICA INCREASED LAST YEAR.

Growth Has Been Rapid and Important and There Are 13,877,426 Communicants.

According to the publishers of a Catholic directory which is rated a high authority regarding Catholic affairs, the membership of the Roman Catholic church in the United States has increased about 800,000 in the last year. The rate of gain has been about 6 per cent, which is not far from two and one-half times the rate of increase in the total population of the country. The number of Catholics now in the United States is placed at 13,877,426.

No fair comparison can be made between these figures and the statistics of radical difference in the methods used for ascertaining membership. Protestant denominations count only actual members of their organizations, instead of including the population affiliated with them, as in the case of little children.

It is evident however, that the growth of the Roman Catholic church in America is very rapid and important. It is the natural result, in part, of the great immigration from Catholic countries, like Italy and Austria-Hungary. The bulk of the immigrants of the last few years have been Roman Catholics from Italy, Hungary, the Slavic provinces of Austria and from Poland.

That fact makes the great strength of the Catholic church in the United States a factor of the utmost importance in its influence upon millions of newcomers, during the transition period when they are becoming Americanized. In the large view, the Catholic church has rendered services of immense value in guiding these multitudes of immigrants, finding their way to citizenship in a strange land. It has stood for progressive conservatism, for law and order, for public and private morality. It has been a great steadying power, and it has done much to render possible the easy absorption of the newcomers in the great body of the American people.

WEAK FROM SUFFERING UNABLE TO PERFORM WORK

Discouraged After Spending Money Without Benefit—Found Help at Last.

Mr. Earl McCoy, living at 1506 So. Branson Street, Marion, Ind., has passed through an experience that is being duplicated every day in every town and city of any consequence in the United States. It furnishes abundant proof of the correctness of L. T. Cooper's theory in regard to the degeneracy of the human stomach, and shows conclusively the merit possessed by his New Discovery medicine to restore the weakened system to full strength and vigor.

Mr. McCoy says: "For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach trouble. I was unable to retain any food, and became so weak and run down that I was compelled to stop work. My system was nearly a wreck, and I had tried so many remedies and spent so much money without deriving any benefit, that I became discouraged and gave up hope of ever being well again."

"I heard a great deal of Mr. Cooper's theory and medicine, and after much hesitation decided to try it. The result was a pleasant surprise. Before I had taken half of the first bottle I was able to retain all food eaten, and my strength began to return. I have taken six or seven bottles, and am feeling fine. I eat and sleep well, do not cough at night, and am able to perform a hard day's work. I can cheerfully recommend Cooper's New Discovery, for it has done wonders for me."

The Cooper remedies are meeting with remarkable success wherever they are introduced. They are without a rival in toning up a weakened and run-down system. We sell them. City Drug Store.

JUDGE BEN B. LINDSEY DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE

Noted Denver Judge of the Juvenile Court Speaks for Two Hours, Appealing to Parents, Guardians and Those in Authority for "Justice to the Child."

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, Colorado, who addressed two large audiences at the Church of Christ, Thursday morning and afternoon, was at the Auditorium at night and spoke to the third and largest audience of the day, on the work done by the Juvenile court. The work of reforming the wayward child is the goal and life of this man, and he is giving it his entire time and attention.

As in the preceding lectures he held his audience almost breathless, as he narrated the work done by the court throughout the United States. The lecture started at 8 o'clock and when the curtain was rung up every seat in the theater was filled. The stage was arranged with chairs placed in semi-circles and these were occupied by representative citizens, who have taken an interest in the work done by the court.

A large electric gelatine sign, extending across the stage, was the work of Messrs. Lippincott and Smith of the Auditorium theater staff, and was a clever bit of work. The sign, "Justice to the Child," flashed upon the audience upon the pressing of an electric button by John Miller, a lad of 12 years, and the words were loudly applauded.

The making of the sign required much patient work and the words were made by punching 1720 holes in the black asbestos that composed the background of the sign. These holes were covered with transparent gelatine, tinted red.

Judge E. M. P. Brister, judge of the Juvenile court of Newark, introduced the speaker with an introduction of the work, saying:

"Since the immortal Abraham Lincoln, forty-five years ago, signed the Emancipation Proclamation, no legal enactment has been of the importance as has the Juvenile court law. While the signing by Lincoln of the important document freed many thousand slaves, we will save nearly 2,000,000 children in this country of ours."

He then referred to the work done by Judge Lindsey while on the bench in Denver, and in a few more well-chosen words, introduced the famous exponent of the "Child Question."

The introduction of Judge Lindsey was a mere formality, for he is well known to Newark people, and he referred to this fact during the course of the evening's talk. In part he said:

"We need no excuse for meeting, in behalf of childhood, for there is no problem of today half so important as that which concerns the child and the home. What our country is, in twenty years, depends largely upon the child of today. Place, in the scales all the wealth of the country in one scale, all the natural resources, and in the other a little babe, and the babe will outweigh all the others."

He then told of his experiences with children while acting as judge in the Denver Juvenile court, and brought out one point strongly, that crime is simply a question of strength or weakness in the human character. The incidents narrated showed his intimate study of child life and habits in the larger cities, and had come to the conclusion that it was justice tempered with love that counted. John Whitman of Chicago, is probably the best jailer in the country, and last year 75 per cent of the prisoners in the Bridewell last year were under 25 years of age, and 20 per cent were under 18, showing plainly that the child was being neglected.

He told in an interesting way his talks with boy murderers and robbers and said that in many cases it was the desire to "get even," that prompted many crimes. He had placed prisoners on their honor.

showed that he trusted them, and they had to go to the penitentiary or reformatory and surrendered themselves, and not an officer of the law accompanied them. In Colorado they have a "contributory delinquency" law that affects the parents and others who send children to places they should not go, and who, as a result, are responsible for many cases of crime and sin. This law he thought, was one that should be passed by every state.

He closed, after a two hour talk, and went at once to his hotel. He left early Friday morning for Washington, D. C., where he will speak Saturday.

The flowers that were in evidence on the stage were contributed by A. J. Baldwin, the florist.

Mrs. Mary Swan who has had charge of the lecture received many telephone calls this morning from people offering financial assistance if the funds subscribed would not meet the expenses of giving the lecture. The funds on hand were ample and in a few days Mrs. Swan will give a detailed account of the money received and expended and the names of the contributors that helped make the lecture a success.

JUDGE HARGIS

dent Judge Hargis repeated his reproaches.

Both were standing behind the counter at the moment when Beech suddenly flashed his mountain gun and began shooting. It was done so quickly that the father could not have answered in kind if he had wished to do so. He was instantly killed.

Judge James Hargis was one of three brothers, who have been the acknowledged leaders of the mountain men of Breathitt county for years. They were known as the Hargis brothers, Jim, Alex and Elbert. They conducted a general store at this place and were the wealthiest men in the mountain country, much of their wealth being invested in lands.

In their attitude toward strangers and noncombatants, the Hargises were peaceable, quiet men, but in their relations to the Cockerill's, leading of the opposing forces in the feud, there was intense bitterness.

The animosities between Judge Hargis and his brothers and the Cockerill brothers, Jim and Tom, had its origin years ago in political rivalries that became intense as the Hargises gradually acquired control of party affairs in the county.

Personal encounters were numerous, but the first victim of assassination was Dr. Ben D. Cox, a practitioner, who had been the guardian of the Cockerill boys. He was shot from ambush. The second victim of the bushwhackers was Tom, one of the Cockerill boys, who had secured the election as marshal that he might apprehend the slayers of his former guardian.

The third victim was Attorney J. B. Marcum, a fearless young mountain attorney, who had the hardihood to undertake the prosecution of the slayers of Dr. Cox and Tom Cockerill. Marcum was shot down in the court house by Curt Jett, who later confessed to the killing and is now serving a life sentence with Abe White, implicated in the same crimes. The Hargises and their brother-in-law, Ed Callahan, were charged with complicity in these coldblooded murders.

Judge Hargis was tried in connection with each case and after many delays finally acquitted, the last case having been disposed of at Sandy Hook, Ky., a little mountain town to which it was taken on a change of venue last summer.

Although acquitted in the criminal courts Judge Hargis was found responsible for the death of Attorney Marcum by the civil courts and only a few days ago gave a check for $11,000, of which $5,000 was given to Mrs. J. B. Marcum to indemnify her for the loss of her husband, the last victim of the series of assassinations that have marked the feud. Mrs. Marcum filed suits aggregating $100,000 against leaders of the Hargis clan.

VIRTUE

Of Woman Teacher Was Asked in Barter for Certificate by an Examiner, is Charged.

Columbus, Feb. 7.—The joint legislative committee to investigate the alleged irregularities in the state educational system, as made in the charges on the Senate floor a few days ago by Senator W. H. Meek of Dayton, decided to hold its hearings in the assembly room of the Board of Trade, the use of which was tendered yesterday by that body.

Senator Meek has outlined his charges as requested by the committee, and will furnish a list of witnesses in an effort to prove them. He will charge, as before, that the board of examiners has granted certificates in return for lecturing dates at teachers' institutes for its members. As to the State School Commissioner, he will claim that all of this has been done with his knowledge. He will have the woman teacher here who furnished an affidavit in which she charged that indecent proposals were made by one of the examiners.

SATURDAY THE LAST THIRD DAY.
When it was announced that the 229 Ohio Birds would stay just one week at Edmiston's Book Store, and that Friday (today) would end their stay, the Ground Hog had not seen his shadow, and was supposed to be a decently behaved and season sleeping animal; but now it is well known that he woke up, saw his other self on Sunday, in Shrew Land, and—well, we all know the rest. How can "birds" have "A Reception" when the old Ground Hog sends such notices? And so Mr. Edmiston has asked the Birds to stay just One Day over time, and they have consented, but Saturday is the LAST DAY.

Take them home in their Great Ohio Bird Book at 40 per cent off until Saturday night. Then if you don't pay 40 per cent more, or lose the Birds forever. Come ere it's too late.
